INTRODUCTION

Hands Across Cultures, Corp. (HACC, pronounced “Hawk”) is a 501 c (3) non-profit organization whose mission is to improve the health, education and well-being of the people of Northern New Mexico through family-centered approaches deeply rooted in the multicultural traditions of their communities. It is through this mission and the commitment of our board and staff that we are able to support the efforts that address the health of our communities and pueblos through prevention, reduction and treatment of substance abuse, violence and gangs. Other concerns related to issues such as domestic violence, health promotion and overall wellness issues, are also addressed in this directory and are the result of a collaborative effort begun over nine years ago and has since formed into La Vision Del Valle Coalition.

The organization of this directory is problem oriented with an emphasis on prevention, education and early intervention. The directory lists resources for helping solve a wide array of problems ranging from behavioral, medical, interpersonal, alcohol, and gang violence.

HACC has collected information in this directory in a good faith effort to benefit the communities of Espanola and Pojoaque, as well as surrounding communities in Northern New Mexico. A listing of a person, agency or organization in this directory does not mean that HACC endorses the services provided or guarantees the quality of the services. The consumer of any service listed in this directory has the ultimate responsibility of determining the credentials of the provider and if they meet their needs.

As it is, HACC’s goal is to provide information to as many consumers as possible, photocopying or other means of duplication of this directory is encouraged. Please feel free to complete the enclosed program description form if you feel a program should be included. For information, corrections or additions to future copies of this directory, contact HACC either by:
